Light Purpose

Your light purpose is something you came here to achieve. Before you incarnated, you agreed to fulfill your special purpose during your time here on earth. This mandala carries the energies of getting your light on purpose. Get in touch with that all-knowing part of yourself. Tune into the vibration of your light being. Acknowledge the gifts you have to share and shine in this world. Align yourself with the inner compass of your heart and soul. And follow!

Balance Your Work with Play

Squirrels can be very entertaining. They love to chase one another through the treetops, scamper across rooftops, bound down fence tops. They are at the top of their game, consistently playing all out. Even when gathering food, they are ever ready to have fun. You ever notice a squirrel actually at work? A squirrel knows that work can be play.

When was the last time you turned work into play? Usually, it's the other way around. Your day of play in the garden turns into work. Instead of planting flowers, you're planning your to-do list. In the meantime, that squirrel's off making mischief with your bird feeder. It's a two-for-one, because his snacking is pure entertainment.

Take time to play, that's what the squirrels would say. Plant your flowers, forget your to-do list, be in the moment, and enjoy life. Balance your work with play!

Poet's Corner

Heartsong

Look inside your heart
 Who is the real you?
 Get to know the essence
 Of who you really are
 What song lives inside you?
 If you were free to sing
 The song inside your heart
 What would it sound like?
 I wait and listen in anticipation
