“Hope is a waking dream.” ~Aristotle

Poet's Corner

New Lease

It's a new year	Whatever you wish
A new lease on life	Your heart's desire
Go for your dream	Make your dream list
Get on with your life	Then set it on fire
Make bold strides	Light up the sky
Take a leap or two	Light up the night
Winning your race	Light up your life
Beat the odds, too	Start things right

Epiphany

Epiphany — three wise men arrive in Bethlehem. The twelfth day of Christmas is an important milestone in your evolution of consciousness. With the birth of Christ Consciousness on Christmas Day, you've had twelve days to integrate and arrive at your Aha moment. What ray of light shone into your life on January 6th? Perhaps a subtle glimmer or a tiny faint spark that was sensed. Or, a lightning bolt that caught you off guard, completely unaware. When that light bulb of understanding dawned on you, your Aha moment had arrived. Whatever Spirit wanted to say, you got it. You pondered it and reached your own personal Epiphany. So your journey continues.

Hope

© Kim Rene Kiefer

Having hope is a great way to start a new year. Without hope, life would seem hopeless. Hope is about your wishes and your wildest dreams. It is an inner knowing that you can have anything and everything you want whenever you want it. Hope is a shining star that lights your way.

Earthworms

Earthworms are powerful medicine with positive messages. According to Ted Andrews in Animal-Wise, earthworms are reminders. They bring to your attention:

- Need to be alone.
- Explore past lives.
- Heal old patterns.
- Learn from mistakes.
- Make new decisions.
